EDITOR'S NOTE

MANY ARTISTS CALL BURIEN HOME. From the Art Alley project, to pop up galleries organized by the Burien Arts Association, to many performing arts organizations, to support for independent filmmaking through the Burien Film Office, Burien is becoming a highly regarded arts hub. The Burien Arts Commission is organizing for this fall and winter artist “meet and greets” in order to nurture the growing arts community here in Burien. Burien’s creative culture is thriving!

In this issue, we also introduce you to two new people. Brian J. Wilson is our new City Manager. You can read his story, Homecoming, on p. 4. We also welcome Antoinette Clark, our new Public Records Officer. Read how she is using her Air Force experience to help the City of Burien stay on top of public records requests (From Air Force Knowledge Operations to Public Records Officer) p. 6.

I also want to thank Amy Moosman, the City’s new Communications Assistant, who was instrumental to the production of this issue of the magazine.

While we welcome new faces, we are also gearing up to celebrate our history. Next February, Burien will celebrate its 25th anniversary of incorporation. To honor this important milestone, we will be highlighting the history of our city in the next few issues of the magazine. In this issue, you will read a history of the Moshier Art Center and the inception of the fall favorite event, Arts-A-Glow, which is celebrating its tenth anniversary.

We want to hear from you, too! Do you have a suggestion for how we should celebrate our 25th birthday? Email me at emilyi@burienwa.gov. We will include your idea on our “ribbon wall” (see Food, Music, and Fun Bring Neighbors Together at Neighborhood Celebrations on p. 21)

Homecoming

By Brian Wilson, City Manager

WHEN I SAW THAT BURIEN WAS LOOKING FOR A NEW CITY MANAGER, I felt this was the perfect opportunity for me to return home to the community where I grew up. Burien is a special place that is rich in diversity, culture, and opportunity, and it is an honor to serve as your city manager.

I spent the early years of my childhood in this community before Burien was even a city. I attended St. Francis Elementary, Gregory Heights Elementary, and Sylvester Junior High School and enjoyed many great experiences around Lake Burien, Three Tree Point, and the downtown area. I especially liked attending the annual July 4th Parade. It's been exciting to see the growth and change in Burien since my childhood. I still have family and many friends here.

After leaving Burien, my family moved to Kent where I attended Kentridge High School. After college at Washington State University (Go Cougs!), I joined the police department in Renton, then in Federal Way, working my way up to leadership positions in each department. I most recently worked as the Chief of Staff for Mayor Jim Ferrell in Federal Way. I've served South King County for my entire career and I'm invested in making our city and region thrive.

I hope to bring the best out of our staff, empowering them to provide high-quality service to residents and local business, and help us meet the City Council's strategic goals. I look forward to also working in partnership with residents and businesses in order to enhance the quality of life in our city.

My door is open. I want to hear about what you think it will take to fulfill the enormous opportunity and promise of Burien. ■

MESSAGE FROM THE CITY COUNCIL

HELLOS AND GOODBYES

THIS SUMMER, WE WELCOMED A NEW CITY MANAGER, BRIAN WILSON, to our community. His in-depth knowledge of Burien and South King County issues, his leadership experience, and his commitment to public engagement will help Burien thrive during the tremendous growth our community is experiencing.

We also want to thank outgoing Interim City Manager Tony Piasecki who provided steady, experienced leadership to staff and to our city. He accomplished a lot in his short time, leaving behind a strong organization.

This fall we are also saying goodbye to another city leader. On July 17, Burien Police Chief Scott Kimerer announced his retirement. The Chief has served our community through both difficult challenges and immense growth. We are grateful for his service to our community.

THE VISION OF EARLY BURIEN LEADERS IS BECOMING REALIZED

The construction of Town Square is complete, and the new apartments and senior living are on track to be fully leased, bringing hundreds of new residents into downtown Burien. These newcomers are breathing fresh life into our downtown commercial district.

Entrepreneurship is also thriving. From innovative startups to established businesses opening up second or third locations in Burien, our community is where small businesses are choosing to locate. The development of a new industrial area will bring hundreds of new jobs to our city.

With all the new people and businesses moving in, our summer events were very well attended. We loved seeing people from all walks of life enjoying our summer celebrations, art walks, and music and theater in the park. It all shows that Burien is the place to be!

Thank you to everyone who has emailed, called or come to Council meetings. You can find our contact info listed in the City Directory. Or please join one of our Monday night City Council meetings—in person, on Channel 21, or streamed online.

And of course, we encourage everyone to go out and vote this November! ■

PROFILE OF ANTOINETTE CLARK:

From Air Force Knowledge Operations to Public Records Officer

ANTOINETTE CLARK JOINED THE CITY OF BURIEN IN JUNE and is the City's first Public Records Officer. She is responsible for fulfilling public records requests, as well as developing and maintaining a system to manage Burien's records.

This is your first experience working with municipal public records. What drew you to working for the City of Burien?

I served in the U.S. Air Force for six years, where I developed records management experience. After leaving the military, I wanted to see how I could apply those skills to civilian life.

This position felt like a really good fit. Burien is a smaller city, which had never had a public records officer before. The job of responding to public records requests and managing records was shared across many different staff members. I was excited by the opportunity to build a records management program from the ground up.

Records management requires a very specific skill set. How did you know this was the career for you?

I'm an organizing junkie. This talent was recognized during my military services, where I was put into a records management role. I like that the rules are based in law. There aren't a lot of gray areas.

How is managing records for a city different than managing records for the Air Force?

The types of records I'm working with are much different. In the military, I would often work with vital records, which have a lot of privacy rules to protect them. But here, less records are protected by those same privacy rules. So I'm learning the different laws and regulations that apply to city records.

In the Air Force, I also managed flight minutes for fighter pilots and responded to FOIA requests. Many of the squadrons I worked with were conducting operations for Middle Eastern deployments.

I also built plans for each department on the base. That meant I had to know each job function. That type of broad knowledge is serving me well here in Burien. Each department has its own special set of requirements. I'm enjoying getting to know what everybody does and tailoring a records management program that makes the most sense for that department.

Being tech savvy was also really important. The databases to manage records require IT skills to manage. I work closely with our IT staff here, especially as we start to work on managing our email records.

Tell us more about your military service.

My senior year in high school, I was offered a basketball scholarship, but I chose instead to enlist in the Air Force. I served in Knowledge Operations in Europe and Qatar before I was deployed to Iraq. I spent nine months serving in a combat role as a security escort for Iraqi civilians that worked on base. There weren't a lot of women serving in that role, and I'm very proud of my time in Iraq.

After returning from Iraq, I worked for the National Security Administration (NSA) for two years. At NSA, you always have to be "inspection ready." We conducted exercises on a regular basis to prepare ourselves for maintaining records during real-time disasters. One scenario we tested was if the building caught on fire, how would we protect our records?

What are the biggest challenges you are facing?

The City of Burien is a relatively young organization compared to the Air Force, and we are still establishing systems and processes that more mature organiza-

WHAT IS A PUBLIC RECORDS OFFICER?

A public records officer serves as a point of contact for members of the public in requesting disclosure of public records and oversees the City's compliance with Washington State public records disclosure requirements.

Records management involves working with state archives in the care, maintenance, scheduling, designation, classification, disposal, and preservation of records. Washington State law (RCW 42.56.580) requires cities to have a public records officer.

HOW DO I REQUEST A PUBLIC RECORD?

- Visit Burien City Hall at 400 SW 152nd St., Suite 300 during regular business hours.
- Submit a request form online or print and mail the form. Visit burienwa.gov/publicrecordrequest for more info.

tions have already figured out. We are in the process of upgrading many of our IT systems. This is a really good time for me to come on board. Records management touches every department in the City and I get to help shape the vision for its future. ■

MERRILL GARDENS AND MAVERICK APARTMENTS BRING HUNDREDS OF NEW RESIDENTS TO DOWNTOWN BURIEN

TWO MAJOR DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS, The Maverick Apartments and Merrill Gardens Senior Living in Burien's Town Square, opened this summer, marking the completion of more than twenty years of vision and commitment to transform downtown Burien. Hundreds of community members, stakeholders, and city leaders kept the Town Square project moving forward, despite challenges such as the 2008 housing market crash.

The Maverick offers 229 apartments, as well as a full list of amenities, including a 24-hour fitness center and an outdoor gathering place complete with a bocce ball court. The Merrill Gardens senior living units are now fully leased. Merrill Gardens is an example of how cities can help their older residents age in the community they love, without being isolated from the amenities and people that downtown living brings. Walking through the Burien Farmer's Market, you are just as likely to see a 20-something resident shopping as you are to see a senior citizen.

Local businesses are noticing an increase in foot traffic since the new developments opened.

"I've seen foot traffic rise steadily in the last few months, and many new customers say they've just moved in to either the Maverick or Merrill Gardens."

Other local businesses are also seeing their businesses grow as a result of the new services needed by the residents.

"The completion of Town Square sends a message to the region that Burien is a good place to invest."

"The popularity of these new residences also demonstrates something that long-term residents have already known—that Burien is a great place to live."

ANDREA SNYDER

BURIEN'S ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

Both developments represent a significant investment in the future of Burien. Valued at nearly $100M, the developments bring 355 new units of housing to the market. They also help realize the community's vision for a downtown community, where people can live, work, and play all within a short walking distance. ■

Regular Attendance Leads to Academic Success

By Erin Ambrozic, Graduate! Highline

SEPTEMBER IS SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AWARENESS MONTH, and Graduate! Highline and Highline Public Schools are talking with families throughout the district about the importance of being at school every day and on time.

Students missing as little as two days of school every month are considered “chronically absent.” Research shows that school attendance can have a big effect on the likelihood of a student graduating from high school. Research also shows the effect is cumulative: chronic absenteeism can lead to third-graders not mastering reading and sixth-graders failing courses.

In 2016, 17 percent of Highline Public School students were considered chronically absent (Road Map Project, 2016 Data Dashboard). In a district of over 18,000 students, that’s more than 3,000 who were missing enough school each month to significantly reduce their likelihood of graduating on time. Because we know our students are capable of so much more, we are committed to changing that statistic. Our hope is that the Highline community will join us in the effort!

LA ASISTENCIA REGULAR CONDUCE AL ÉXITO ACADÉMICO

Por Erin Ambrozic, Graduate! Highline

SEPTIEMBRE ES EL MES DE LA CONCIENCIA DE LA ASISTENCIA ESCOLAR, y de Graduate! Highline y las Escuelas Públicas de Highline están hablando con las familias en todo el distrito sobre la importancia de asistir a la escuela todos los días y de manera puntual.

Los estudiantes que faltan a la escuela tan solo dos días cada mes se consideran "crónicamente ausentes". La investigación muestra que la asistencia a la escuela puede tener un gran efecto en la probabilidad de que un estudiante se gradúe de la escuela secundaria. También muestra que el efecto es acumulativo: el absentismo crónico puede conducir a que los estudiantes de tercer grado no dominen la lectura y a que los de sexto grado reprobren los cursos.

De acuerdo con el cuadro de datos de 2016 del Proyecto de Mapa de

Ruta (Road Map Project), al 17 por ciento de los estudiantes de las Escuelas Públicas de Highline se les consideró crónicamente ausentes. En un distrito de más de 18,000 estudiantes, ese porcentaje representa más de 3,000 estudiantes, quienes faltaron a la escuela lo suficiente cada mes, como para reducir de manera significativa su probabilidad de graduarse a tiempo. Debido a que sabemos que nuestros estudiantes son capaces de mucho más, estamos comprometidos a cambiar esa estadística. ¡Nuestra esperanza es que la comunidad de Highline nos acompañará en el esfuerzo!

Bởi Erin Ambrozic, Graduate! Highline

THÁNG 9 là Tháng nhận thức về việc đi học đều đặn, và Trường công Graduate! Highline và Highline sẽ trao đổi với các gia đình trong toàn học khu về tầm quan trọng của việc đến trường mỗi ngày và đúng giờ.

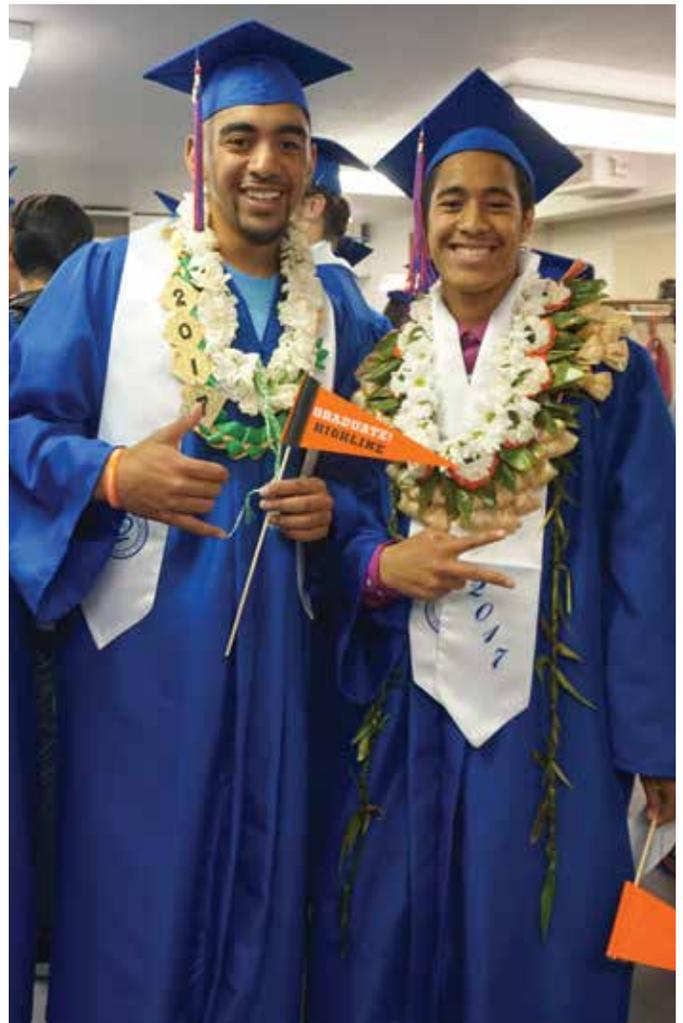

Những học sinh nghỉ học hai ngày trong mỗi tháng được xem là "vắng mặt thường xuyên". Theo nghiên cứu cho thấy rằng việc đi học đều đặn có thể có ảnh hưởng lớn đến khả năng học sinh tốt nghiệp trung học. Nghiên cứu cũng cho thấy hiệu quả ngày càng tăng lên: tình trạng vắng mặt thường xuyên có thể khiến một học sinh lớp ba không thể đọc thành thạo và học sinh lớp sáu rớt học kỳ.

Vào năm 2016, 17 phần trăm học sinh Trường công Highline được xem là nghỉ học thường xuyên (Dự án Bản đồ Đường phố. Bảng dữ liệu năm 2016). Trong học khu với hơn 18,000 học sinh, mỗi tháng có hơn 3,000 học sinh nghỉ học đủ để giảm đáng kể khả năng tốt nghiệp đúng thời điểm. Vì chúng tôi biết học sinh có nhiều năng lực hơn thế, nên chúng tôi cam kết thay đổi con số thống kê đó. Chúng tôi hy vọng rằng cộng đồng Highline sẽ cùng chung tay với chúng tôi trong nỗ lực này!

It's Raining Rain Gardens

LIVING IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST we have to think creatively about rain, and the stormwater pollution that comes with it. Rain gardens are an attractive, wildlife-friendly way to prevent stormwater from polluting our local waters.

Rain gardens are popping up all over Burien. New Start High School is in the process of installing one behind the outdoor stage near their new community garden. Puget Sound Skills Center is installing two rain gardens as part of the construction of their new facility. The City of Burien is installing four on 8th Avenue as part of a stormwater retrofit project (see Burien Magazine, Summer Issue, p. 24). And, an innovative new program, sponsored by the city, is bringing rain gardens to homes throughout Burien.

TEACHING ORDINARY GARDENERS HOW TO CATCH THE RAIN

On a Saturday morning in June, a crowd of Burien residents gathered at Laura Harrington's home in north Burien. They were there to help Laura install a rain garden on her property and learn how to install one on their own property. This was the first of three "learning and doing" workshops where volunteers both learn and help install ten rain gardens in low-income neighborhoods across Burien.

The workshops teach residents how to install their own rain garden by giving them hands-on experience, which can be much more effective than classroom learning. Staff from the DIRTCorps Community Partnership Environmental Training Program deliver the training, in both English and Spanish, and help volunteers install the rain gardens.

"The volunteers showed perseverance and enthusiasm for the project," says Mary Eidmann, Environmental Education Specialist.

A rain garden is a shallow depression designed with plants that can keep their roots wet all winter while also withstanding the drought of summer. The downspout(s) of a home are redirected into the rain garden which collects the rain water as it slowly infiltrates into the soil instead of running off the property and becoming stormwater.

"Every time I look at the garden, I am reminded of the community spirit and dedication to our environment that made it happen. It was an experience that will keep giving for many years to come."

LAURA HARRINGTON
RAIN GARDEN PROGRAM PARTICIPANT

The gardens are designed to drain quickly so there isn't enough time for mosquitoes or other nuisance creatures to inhabit them. Rain gardens not only provide environmental benefits. Here in Burien, there is a wide selection of plants that are able to go in rain gardens, creating colorful environments, lush foliage, or bird and butterfly habitat. Property values can increase as a result.

WANT TO LEARN HOW TO INSTALL A RAIN GARDEN?

There are two more opportunities to attend a rain garden workshop. Locations will be shared with participants have they register.

- Saturday, September 9th from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.
- Saturday October 7th from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Volunteers will be provided coffee, snacks, tools, and free tickets to the end of workshop series raffle. Visit BurienParks.net for details and to register.

CUANDO LAS TORMENTAS TRAEN INUNDACIONES Y AGUA ESTANCADA

Consejos y trucos para mantener su propiedad seca este otoño e invierno

La prevención puede ahorrarle baldes de estrés. Antes de que llueva...

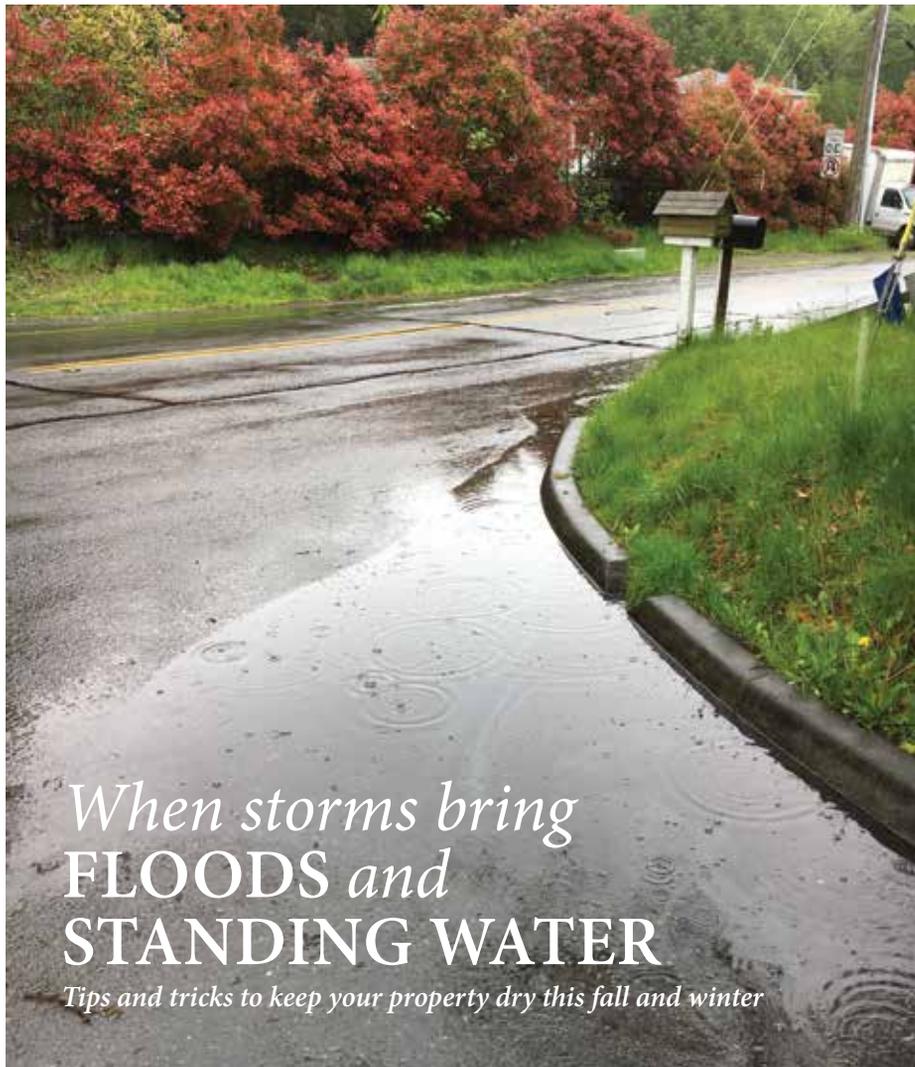

1. Ubique los desagües pluviales que se encuentran cerca de su casa.
2. Corte el césped en su zanja.
3. Mantenga los desagües pluviales y las tuberías libres de cualquier desecho. Las hojas y la basura son los responsables más grandes. ¡Incluso hemos visto pelotas de baloncesto obstruyendo las tuberías de aguas pluviales!
4. Retire con el rastrillo las hojas que se acumulan en la parte superior de los desagües pluviales.
5. Revise las tuberías para aguas pluviales que van debajo del camino de la entrada a su casa. Si están llenas de hojas, basura o sedimentos (como arena), llame al Departamento de Obras Públicas y las limpiaremos por usted.

Cuando vea pozas...

1. Identifique el punto más bajo del charco.
2. Tome un rastrillo o una escoba y aparte las hojas para despejar el desagüe pluvial. ¡Esto puede requerir el empleo de músculos!
3. Rastrille, empuje y repita la operación hasta que el agua haya drenado.

Comparta esta información con sus amigos y vecinos. Ayude a sus vecinos ancianos y discapacitados, si es posible. ¡Confiamos en que los residentes ayudarán para lograr que nuestro sistema de aguas pluviales funcione bien!

¿Necesita ayuda? Llame al Departamento de Obras Públicas en Burien al 206-241-4647 para obtener asistencia. ■

When storms bring FLOODS and STANDING WATER

Tips and tricks to keep your property dry this fall and winter

Prevention can save you buckets of stress. Before it rains ...

1. Locate the storm drains near your home.
2. Mow and trim the grass in your ditch.
3. Keep storm drains and pipes clear of any debris. Leaves and trash are the biggest culprits—we have even seen basketballs clog storm pipes!
4. Rake away leaves that are piling up on top of your storm drains.
5. Check the storm pipes that go under your driveway. If they are full of leaves, trash, or sediment (like sand), call Public Works and we will clean it out for you.

When you see pools of water ...

1. Identify the lowest spot of the puddle.
2. Take a rake or a push broom and uncover the storm drain by pushing the leaves away. This might require some muscle!
3. Rake, push, repeat until the pool has drained away.

Share this information with your friends and neighbors. Assist your elderly and disabled neighbors, if you can. We rely on residents to help keep our storm-water system working well!

KHI MƯA BÃO ĐEM ĐẾN LŨ LỤT VÀ NƯỚC TÙ

Những gợi ý và bí quyết giữ khô ráo cho nhà ở của bạn trong mùa thu và mùa đông này

Việc ngăn ngừa có thể tránh cho bạn những gánh nặng căng thẳng. Trước khi trời mưa...

1. Xác định vị trí của ống dẫn nước mưa gần nhà của bạn.
2. Cắt và xén cỏ trong mương rãnh.
3. Giữ sạch sẽ đường ống dẫn nước mưa không có bất kỳ mảnh vụn nào. Lá và rác là những thủ phạm lớn nhất—chúng ta thậm chí từng nhìn thấy những quả bóng rổ làm bịt kín đường ống dẫn nước mưa!
4. Cào sạch lá chất đóng trên đầu đường ống dẫn nước mưa.
5. Kiểm tra đường ống dẫn nước mưa bên dưới đường xe chạy vào nhà. Nếu chúng đầy lá, rác hoặc cặn (như cát), hãy gọi cho Sở Dịch vụ Công cộng và chúng tôi sẽ dọn sạch cho bạn.

Khi bạn nhìn thấy những vũng nước...

1. Nhận biết điểm thấp nhất của vũng nước đó.
2. Cào hoặc quét và khơi thông đường ống dẫn nước mưa bằng cách quét dọn sạch lá. Điều này có thể đòi hỏi một chút cơ bắp!
3. Cào, đẩy, lặp lại cho đến khi vũng nước cạn nước.

Chia sẻ thông tin này với bạn bè và hàng xóm của bạn. Hỗ trợ các hàng xóm lớn tuổi và khuyết tật, nếu có thể. Chúng tôi trồng cây vào cư dân để giúp giữ thông thoáng và hoạt động của hệ thống dẫn nước mưa!

5 MANERAS PARA PREPARARSE

Septiembre es el Mes de Preparación Nacional

¡Todos podemos tomar medidas para prepararnos en caso de un desastre! Todos estamos en condiciones de ayudar a los servicios de primera respuesta locales, al recibir la capacitación para saber cómo actuar durante una emergencia y qué hacer cuando ocurre un desastre en donde vivimos, trabajamos y nos encontramos de visita. Aquí presentamos cinco cosas que puede hacer ahora y que ayudarán a protegerlo a usted y a su familia.

- 1. Arme un kit de emergencia. Incluya suficiente comida, agua y suministros médicos para que sus necesidades estén cubiertas al menos por 72 horas. ¡No olvide incluir baterías y cargadores!
- 2. Escriba una lista de contactos. Anote los nombres, direcciones y números de teléfono de las personas más cercanas a usted y a su familia.
- 3. No se olvide de Fido o Felix. Las mascotas deberían tener su propio kit de emergencia con suficiente comida y agua para al menos tres días.
- 4. Decida quién será el responsable. Decida quién auxiliará a los miembros de su familia que necesitan ayuda adicional, entre ellos, niños, abuelos y personas con limitaciones físicas o mentales.
- 5. Escoja un lugar. Tenga definido a cuál lugar dirigirse si está separado de su familia cuando ocurre un desastre.

Tất cả chúng ta đều có thể giúp các chuyên gia y tế đầu tiên có mặt tại địa phương của mình bằng cách đào tạo cách phản ứng trong trường hợp khẩn cấp và những việc cần làm khi xảy ra thảm họa – nơi chúng ta sống, làm việc và thăm viếng. Có năm điều mà bạn có thể làm ngay bây giờ để giúp bảo vệ bạn và gia đình của mình.

- 1. Xây dựng bộ dụng cụ khẩn cấp. Bao gồm đủ thực phẩm, nước và vật dụng y tế cần thiết cho ít nhất 72 giờ. Đừng quên bao gồm pin và đồ sạch!
- 2. Viết ra danh sách liên lạc. Bao gồm tên, địa chỉ, và số điện thoại của những người gần với bạn và gia đình nhất.
- 3. Đừng quên Fido hoặc Felix. Thú nuôi nên có bộ dụng cụ khẩn cấp riêng với đủ thực phẩm và nước cho ba ngày.
- 4. Biết người có trách nhiệm. Quyết định người sẽ hỗ trợ những thành viên gia đình này, những người cần trợ giúp thêm, bao gồm trẻ em, ông bà và những người có những hạn chế về thể chất hoặc tâm thần.
- 5. Chọn địa điểm. Biết nơi sẽ đi nếu bạn bị tách khỏi gia đình khi có thảm họa.

5 WAYS TO PREPARE

September is National Preparedness Month

We can all take action to prepare for a disaster! We are all able to help our local first responders by training how to respond during an emergency and what to do when disaster strikes—where we live, work, and visit. Here are five things you can do now to help protect you and your family.

- 1. Build an emergency kit. Include enough food, water, and medical supplies for your needs to last for at least 72 hours. Don't forget to include batteries and chargers!
- 2. Write down a contact list. Include names, addresses, and phone numbers of those closest to you and your family.
- 3. Don't forget about Fido or Felix. Pets should have their own emergency kit with enough food and water to last three days.
- 4. Know who is responsible. Decide who will assist those members of your family who need additional help, including children, grandparents, and those with physical or mental limitations.
- 5. Pick a spot. Know where to go if you are separated from your family when disaster strikes.

FROM COMMUNITY CLUB TO ART CENTER

William Moshier, a resident of the Shorewood neighborhood and a former King County Commissioner, played an active role in the development of Moshier Park, which included a community club building, and was named in his honor in 1958.

In 1962, King County established the first county arts center and year-round arts program in the former community club. Originally a multipurpose facility, the center offered art classes as well as other recreational programming such as classes and karate. Between 1962 and 1972, the community club was redesigned to accommodate pottery and jewelry programs.

The clay program began in the 1970s. A decade later, jewelry programs were added. When Burien incorporated as a city in 1993, King County transferred ownership of the park and art center to the City of Burien. With no resources to keep the art center going, students and teachers advocated with the Burien City Council to make it an arts facility. In 1999, staff was hired to transform the community center into a full service art center.

MOSHIER OFFERS TOP-NOTCH FACILITY AND SUPPORTIVE COMMUNITY

Today, students from beginner to advanced skill levels participate in programs in a fully-equipped ceramics studio setting. The art center offers programs for all ages, including affordable classes and workshops in ceramics, painting, drawing, sculpture, and much more. 24-hour access studio spaces for artists, and classes for adults and teens with special needs are also available.

"Moshier is such a hidden gem in the south end. It offers room to move and create art," says Pam Fredback, longtime Moshier student and studio artist. "The community at Moshier is family."

This is a community that also gives back. Every year, the Moshier students donate their pottery to the Empty Bowls fundraiser, which raises awareness and money for our local food banks. This event, along with the annual pottery sale, help foster that sense of community.

"Being among other students has greatly increased the level of idea and process exchanges," says Hilva Novota, a Moshier student since the 1970s and manager of the annual pottery sale. "I cherish the help I received in raising children, how to take care of my first cat, and potluck recipes galore. Thank you, Moshier!"

TINY LIGHTS BOBBING THROUGH A FOREST OF FIR TREES. Art around every corner. People covered head to toe in costumes made of light. The Arts-a-Glow Lantern Festival promises a magical evening.

With days getting shorter, the art installations invite light into our increasingly long Pacific Northwest nights. Occurring near the same time as light festivals across the country, this is one of the rare, family-friendly activities in our community that happens at night.

Celebrating its tenth anniversary, the Glow has invited dozens of artists to install their art throughout Dottie Harper Park for this year's Arts-A-Glow. VamoLA, a Brazilian marching band, will get people dancing throughout the night. Everyone is invited to walk in the lantern procession at dusk. Costumes are encouraged!

HISTORY OF ARTS-A-GLOW

The Arts-a-Glow Lantern Festival started small. With the support of a Burien Arts & Culture grant, local artist Denise Henrikson created a small lantern making station and procession at the 2008 Burien Art Walk.

In 2009 the Glow was born, with a standalone event at Town Square Park that included lantern installations and music. The event continued to expand, and in 2011 the event moved from Town Square to Dottie Harper Park to take advantage of the park's beauty. That was the year local performer Lucia Neare performed an opera and performance piece, featuring dancing mice and clocks, to a crowd of 1,000 people.

"It was a spectacular event," says Gina Kallman, Cultural Arts Supervisor and event manager for Arts-A-Glow. "That's when we knew the Glow had reached a whole new level."

Arts-a-Glow has been held at Dottie Harper Park ever since and continues to attract bigger crowds, growing from

50 people in 2008 to over 2,500 in 2016. Each year, different artists and performers are invited. This variety in programming is part of what keeps people coming back each year. Even if you've attended in the past, you are guaranteed a new experience this year. ■

FOOD, MUSIC, AND FUN BRING NEIGHBORS TOGETHER AT NEIGHBORHOOD celebrations!

THE FIRST ANNUAL SERIES OF NEIGHBORHOOD CELEBRATIONS was a success! Residents from North Burien, Manhattan, and Seahurst neighborhoods came out and enjoyed evenings of food, music, and activities.

People who attended the events had a chance to meet city staff, who were there to answer questions and to hear what's important to people living in the neighborhoods. We asked people to write a "love note" about what makes living in Burien so great. Among the favorites—Seahurst Park, downtown restaurants, the Farmer's Market, great events. People also were able to note their concerns.

PaRCS department staff provided information about the Parks, Recreation, and Open Space Plan (PROS Plan) and how residents could make their voice heard during the planning process. The purpose of the plan is to provide guidance to the city in its management and development of park properties and recreation programs. The plan is scheduled to be updated in 2018 and community input is key to its success.

The celebrations also offered opportunities for residents to get involved right now. There was information about rain garden workshops, community gardens, and other ways for people to protect our local environment.

Since Burien will be celebrating its 25th birthday next year, people were asked to write their ideas on how best to mark this event on colored ribbons, which were then tied to a wall. The "ribbon wall" will appear at city events this fall.

New members of the Burien Police Department's Proactive Unit were there to introduce themselves and answer questions. Kids got to play a few games of Jenga and take selfies with the new officers.

Neighborhood Celebrations were hosted by the Burien Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services Department.

We look forward to the 2018 celebrations!

People enjoyed free musical entertainment at the neighborhood celebrations.

Proactive Detective Team members from the Burien Police Department invited kids to play a game.

THANK YOU TACO TIME, JERSEY MIKES, AND LIONS CLUB WHO DONATED FOOD FOR THE EVENTS.

Burien Welcomes Two New Officers to the Proactive Detective Unit

By Detective Sergeant Chad Myers, Leader of the Burien Proactive Detective Unit

AS OF JULY OF THIS YEAR, the new Burien Proactive Detective Unit is fully staffed and out in the community, helping make Burien a safe place for residents, businesses, and visitors.

The mission of the unit is to proactively target violence, crime, and nuisance problems affecting the residents of Burien. When we encounter people who need human services, we will help connect them to the right social service agency. This could be through a referral, a ride to a shelter, or help connecting them to their case worker. All of our officers want to help make a difference in people's lives.

The current Burien Proactive Unit, or ProAct, was created in October 2016. The first ProAct unit members, Detectives Evan Buetow and Ricardo Cueva, had previously worked patrol in SW King County and Burien. Both demonstrated outstanding work in the field and were patrol training officers prior to their promotion to detective.

In June of this year, I was selected to lead the unit. I have been with the King County Sheriff's Office for more than a decade and have had various assignments throughout my career, including service as a patrol deputy, patrol training officer, criminal investigations unit detective, and as a patrol sergeant at our North Precinct.

Just in time for the July 4th weekend, we added the last two members to our unit. Detectives Jon Hennessy and Joe Emrick have worked as patrol officers in Burien City Council approved the budget for these two new officers in 2016. The unit also receives funding through a federal Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) grant.

SW King County. Both new detectives bring a wealth of skills and experience to the unit. While one of these positions is only a temporary duty assignment for the summer, our team and Burien will benefit from the additional resource.

As an investigatory, but proactive unit, we work in collaboration with our partners on patrol, the King County crime analyst, other detective units, and community stakeholders to identify problems affecting Burien.

We use a variety of methods to prevent crime. We like to get out on bicycles to conduct high visibility patrol at our parks and throughout the downtown core. You will also see us at community meetings and other events where people can ask questions and get to know us.

We also use methods that are more covert in nature. At times, our detectives will respond to 911 calls to assist and help our patrol partners. At the end of the day, our goal is to target crime and the criminals who commit them, thus protecting the safety of our community. ■

Burien chào mừng hai nhân viên mới đến với Đơn vị Trinh thám Tiên phong

Dưới sự lãnh đạo của Trung sĩ Trinh sát Chad Myers, Đội trưởng Đơn vị Trinh thám Tiên phong Burien

Hội đồng Thành phố Burien đã phê duyệt ngân sách cho hai viên chức mới này vào 2016. Đơn vị cũng nhận được nguồn quỹ tài trợ thông qua khoản tiền trợ cấp Dịch vụ An ninh Trật tự Cộng đồng (COPS) của liên bang.

KỂ TỪ THÁNG 7 NĂM NAY, Đơn vị Trinh thám Tiên phong Burien mới có đội ngũ nhân viên đầy đủ và tham gia hoạt động bên ngoài cộng đồng, giúp Burien trở thành một nơi an toàn cho cư dân, doanh nhân và du khách.

Sứ mệnh của đơn vị là tích cực xác định đối tượng gây vấn đề bạo hành, tội phạm và quấy rối làm ảnh hưởng đến cư dân Burien. Khi chúng tôi gặp những người cần hỗ trợ dịch vụ con người, chúng tôi sẽ giúp kết nối họ với đúng cơ quan dịch vụ xã hội. Điều này có thể thông qua việc giới thiệu, đưa đến nơi trú ngụ, hoặc giúp kết nối họ với nhân viên phụ trách trường hợp của họ. Tất cả các viên chức của chúng tôi đều muốn giúp tạo nên sự khác biệt trong cuộc sống của người dân.

Đơn vị Tiên phong Burien hiện tại, hay ProAct, được sáng lập vào tháng

10 năm 2016. Các thành viên của đơn vị ProAct đầu tiên, Thám tử Evan Buetow và Ricardo Cueva, trước đây là nhân viên tuần tra Tây Nam Quận King và Burien. Cả hai đã chứng tỏ được công việc tuyệt vời của mình trong lĩnh vực này và là các viên chức đào tạo tuần tra trước khi họ được thăng cấp lên thành thám tử.

Vào tháng 6 năm nay, tôi được chọn dẫn dắt đơn vị này. Tôi làm việc cho Văn phòng Cảnh sát trưởng Quận King được hơn một thập kỷ và được phân công nhiều nhiệm vụ khác nhau trong cuộc đời sự nghiệp của mình, bao gồm đội phó đội tuần tra, viên chức đào tạo tuần tra, thám tử đơn vị điều tra tội phạm, và trung sĩ tuần tra tại Khu vực phía Bắc (North Precinct) của chúng ta.

Ngay vào cuối tuần ngày 4 tháng 7, chúng tôi đã bổ sung thêm hai thành viên cuối cùng vào đơn vị của mình. Thám tử Jon Hennessy và Joe Emrick giữ nhiệm vụ cảnh sát tuần tra tại Tây Nam Quận King. Cả hai thám tử mới sẽ đóng góp nhiều kỹ năng và kinh nghiệm cho đơn vị này. Mặc dù một trong hai vị trí này chỉ là công việc tạm thời trong mùa hè, nhưng việc bổ sung nguồn lực này sẽ giúp ích được nhiều cho nhóm của chúng tôi và Burien.

Là đơn vị điều tra, nhưng tiên phong, chúng tôi phối hợp làm việc với các đối tác về điều tra, nhà phân tích tội phạm Quận King, các đơn vị thám tử khác, và những người có liên quan trong cộng đồng để xác định những vấn đề làm ảnh hưởng đến Burien.

Chúng tôi sử dụng nhiều biện pháp khác nhau để ngăn ngừa tội phạm. Chúng tôi muốn đi ra ngoài trên những chiếc xe đạp để thực hiện tuần tra giám sát tại các công viên và trong khu thương mại trung tâm. Bạn cũng sẽ nhìn thấy chúng tôi tại các buổi tụ tập của cộng đồng và các sự kiện khác mà mọi người có thể đặt câu hỏi và tìm hiểu về chúng tôi.

Chúng tôi cũng sử dụng các biện pháp có tính thay đổi hơn. Thỉnh thoảng, các thám tử của chúng tôi sẽ trả lời các cuộc gọi 911 để hỗ trợ và giúp các đối tác tuần tra của chúng tôi. Vào cuối ngày, mục tiêu của chúng tôi là nhắm vào tội phạm và những người có hành vi phạm tội, do đó bảo vệ sự an toàn cho cộng đồng của chúng ta. ■

Burien les da la bienvenida a dos nuevos oficiales a la UNIDAD DE DETECTIVES PROACTIVA

Por el Sargento Detective Chad Myers, Jefe de la Unidad de Detectives Proactiva de Burien

A PARTIR DE JULIO DE ESTE AÑO, la nueva Unidad de Detectives Proactiva de Burien cuenta con personal completo y en la comunidad, listo para ayudar a hacer de la ciudad un lugar seguro para los residentes, negocios y visitantes.

La misión de la unidad es abordar de manera proactiva los problemas de violencia, el crimen y las molestias que afectan a los residentes de Burien. Cuando nos encontramos con personas que necesitan servicios humanos, procuramos conectarlas con la agencia de servicio social correspondiente. Tal acción la llevamos a cabo a través de una remisión, un paseo a un refugio o una ayuda para que contacten a sus trabajadores sociales. Todos nuestros oficiales quieren ayudar a marcar la diferencia en la vida de las personas.

La Unidad Proactiva de Burien actual, o ProAct, se creó en octubre de 2016. Los primeros miembros de la unidad ProAct, los detectives Evan Buetow y Ricardo Cueva, habían trabajado anteriormente en patrullaje en el suroeste del condado de King y Burien. Ambos demostraron un trabajo destacado en el campo y fueron oficiales de capacitación de patrulla antes de sus ascensos a detectives.

En junio de este año, fui seleccionado para dirigir la unidad. He estado en la Oficina del Alguacil del condado de King durante más de una década y he tenido varias asignaciones a lo largo de mi carrera, entre ellas, el servicio como ayudante de patrulla, oficial de capacitación de patrulla, detective de la unidad de investigaciones criminales y sargento de patrulla en nuestra comisaría norte (North Precinct).

Justo a tiempo para el fin de semana del 4 de julio, incorporamos a los dos últimos miembros a nuestra unidad. Los detectives Jon Hennessy y Joe Emrick, quienes han trabajado como oficiales de patrulla en el suroeste del condado de King. Ambos aportan una gran cantidad de habilidades y experiencia a la unidad. Si bien una de estas posiciones es solo una asignación provisional para el verano, nuestro equipo y Burien se beneficiarán del recurso adicional.

Como una unidad de investigación, pero proactiva, trabajamos en colaboración con nuestros compañeros en la patrulla, el analista de crímenes del condado de King, otras unidades de detectives y las partes interesadas de la comunidad para identificar los problemas que afectan a Burien.

Utilizamos una variedad de métodos para prevenir el crimen. Nos gusta salir en bicicleta para acompañar a una patrulla de alta visibilidad en nuestros parques y en todo el centro de la ciudad. También nos verán en reuniones de la comunidad y otros eventos donde las personas pueden hacernos preguntas y llegar a conocernos.

Asimismo, usamos métodos que son más encubiertos en la naturaleza. En ocasiones, nuestros detectives responderán a las llamadas del 911 para apoyar a los compañeros de patrulla. Al final del día, nuestro objetivo es atacar los delitos y a quienes los cometen, y de esta manera proteger la seguridad de nuestra comunidad.

El Ayuntamiento de Burien aprobó el presupuesto para estos dos nuevos oficiales el 2016. La unidad también recibe fondos a través de una subvención federal de la oficina de Servicios Policiales Orientados hacia la Comunidad (Community Oriented Policing Services, COPS).
